AIR QUALITY ENGINEER I

Filing Date: OPEN UNTIL FILLED

First Review of Applications Scheduled for:

June 20, 2019

AQE I: $5,369 - $6,855/month

(Effective July 1, 2019)

Applicants Must be a Current FRAQMD Employee

The Feather River Air Quality Management District is conducting a promotional recruitment for a full-time Air Quality Engineer (AQE I).

THE POSITION: Under general supervision, performs a variety of assignments to develop, formulate, and maintain the District's stationary source permitting program; oversees or personally performs professional-level air quality engineering in the areas of permit and toxic evaluations, source testing, facility inspections and emission reduction evaluations; represents the District regarding air quality engineering issues at the federal, state, regional and local levels; researches and prepares technical responses for regulatory agencies regarding laws, guidelines and engineering decisions affecting the District; may coordinate or manage individual air quality improvement projects; and performs related work as required.

Air Quality Engineer I is the entry level class of the professional Air Quality Engineer series. Initially under close supervision, incumbents learn specific air quality engineering and related practices and procedures. This class is alternately staffed with an Air Quality Engineer II. An incumbent may advance to the higher level after gaining the knowledge, skill and experience that meet the qualifications for and demonstrate the ability to perform the work of the higher level class.

THE IDEAL CANDIDATE: The ideal candidate will be a current permanent District internal employee that is familiar with current air quality permitting issues, engineering practices and equipment used in air quality analysis and control; engineering mathematics, statistical techniques, combustion processes, and thermodynamics; industrial processes related to air quality; and economic and health consequences of pollutants in the atmosphere.

QUALIFICATIONS: A Bachelor's Degree in Environmental Engineering, Chemical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Mechanical Engineering or a closely related field from an accredited college or university is required. AQE (I): No experience required; however, some internship or related paraprofessional experience is desirable.

OTHER REQUIREMENTS: Must possess a valid California class C driver's license and have a satisfactory driving record. Must be able to obtain the necessary US Department of Defense pass in order to inspect Federal facilities.

HOW TO APPLY: Eligible applicants shall submit the FRAQMD Job Application no later than the first review date. FRAQMD Job Applications shall be required prior to interviews. Additionally, official college transcripts shall be required prior to appointment. Applications may be obtained from and are to be filed at:

Feather River Air Quality Management District
541 Washington Avenue
Yuba City, CA 95991
530-634-7659 Email: – fracmd@fracmd.org

SELECTION PROCEDURE: Applications will be reviewed for the most qualified applicants. Those candidates with the most directly related experience, education and training may be invited to a written performance and/or oral examination. The most outstanding candidates will be referred for a final interview(s). Investigation of employment history and references may be conducted prior to appointment.
